THE CONDEMNED MEN.

The Electric Current Will Probably Snuff Out the Life Spark in the Bodies of the Murderers Today.

SING SING, N. Y., July 5.—At twelve minutes before 8 o'clock the buckboard of the warden appeared coming down the road to the prison, the warden's son driving and the warden sitting beside him. The warden looked as though he had not had much sleep in the last twenty-four hours. His face was pale and there were deep rings around his eyes. He greeted the little group of newspaper reporters cordially and passed on to his office. The first thing he did was to issue an order to the guard to keep every one away from the office and the walk in front of it.

"I've got to keep you people away now," he said to the correspondent of the United Press. "I've treated you as cordially as I know how and given you every facility possible, but today I must have my house to myself. I have a big job ahead of me and I must have a chance to rest and be quiet. If I have anything official—a stay or anything like that—I will come out and give it to you."

The warden declined to say where he was last night. He would not deny the statement that he had been at Albany, but he would not confirm it. To a question as to whether there was any chance of the execution occurring today, he would only reply: "You must use your own judgment about that." A statement was made from a semi-official source, however, that there would be no execution today; that it would occur, in all likelihood, at daybreak tomorrow.

The condemned men spent a quiet, restful night. When Headkeeper Connaughton visited their cells at 7 o'clock this morning all of them were still sleeping. The nightwatch said that they had slept well all through the night. It was 8 o'clock when the first signs of awakening came to them. By 8:30 they had dressed themselves, made their beds, and tidied up their room. All of them seemed to be in as good spirits as on yesterday. Breakfast was served to them from the hospital kitchen at 9:40. All of them ate well, and seemed to enjoy the meals.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 6.—Judge Wallace of the United States circuit court said yesterday that no one had applied to him for a writ of habeas corpus in the cease of the murderers who are to be executed in Sing Sing some time this week. He said he believed that any lawyer who secured another delay in any of these cases would be disbarred, as the questions involved have all been passed upon by the courts, and there is no good ground left upon which an application for a writ could be based.

The first arrival of any interest was ex-Warden Brush, Mr. Brown's predecessor. He drove up to the main entrance at 9:30 and carried a big yellow traveling bag in the warden's office, where he had a warm greeting from his old subordinates. Twenty minutes later Warden Durston, of Auburn, the man who executed Kemmler, was seen walking down the road and the newspaper reporters, who were sitting on the grass, across the road from the main entrance, rushed in a body to greet him. He shook hands with all of them, but in response to questions said, however, that he expected to go to New York tonight or tomorrow and to return to Auburn on Wednesday. He said that the warden of Dannemora would not be here.

There were three departures from the prison during the morning. The two priests, Father Creeden and Father Lynch, who had been in the condemned cells for nearly an hour, went away in a carriage at 9:30. Warden Brush took his yellow traveling bag and duster and went away at six minutes past 11 o'clock. Before his departure he paid a visit to the newspaper colony on the roadside and announced that he had not yet come to Sing Sing to attend the execution; that he had come here on other business, and did not know at the time of his coming that the execution was to take place today. Word was received from a number of witnesses during the morning that they were on their way to the prison and they would be here this afternoon. It is known that witnesses will be here this afternoon, and it is likely that the execution of one of the prisoners will take place before sundown today. Some of them may be postponed until tomorrow morning. Chaplain Edgerton emerged from the prison about 11 o'clock. He said he had talked with each of the men. "So far as I could see," he said, "they are bearing up bravely. The Japanese is inclined to be sullen, and Slocum is inclined to be nervous. None of them wanted to talk, and no questions were asked." When asked if he would be present at the execution he said: "It is my duty to be there." He refused to say what time it would take place, but said he was going for a drive and would not be back until afternoon. Ex-Warden Brush went to the village, but said he would be back later in the day. Warden Durston is still in the prison, as is also Dr. Carlos McDonald. No other witnesses had arrived up to 12 o'clock.

A note was handed to one of the keepers, addressed to Dr. McDonald, asking him to come out and speak to the reporters, but Warden Brown refused to give it to him and returned it unopened. About noon an elderly man arrived and alighted in front of the prison on the public highway. The reporters attempted to approach the carriage but the guard drove them back, threatening to shoot if they did not leave the highway.

The arrangement of the cells of the prisoners who are to be executed was changed this morning, it is said. There are four of these cells on each side of the passage leading into the execution chamber. In the first chamber on the left of the passage was Wood, next to him a vacant cell, and in the third cell on that side, Slocum. In the first cell on the right was the Japanese, and next to him Smiler. The other two murderers were in the next cells on each side. The re arrangement, it is said, has placed the four murderers who are about to be executed in the cell on the left of the passage in the following order: Jugiro, Smiler, Slocum and Wood. This is the order in which, it is expected, they will be executed at sharp intervals. There seems very little doubt that the four will go in one day. Shortly after one o'clock the prison chaplain appeared again and entered the warden's office. He was accompanied by a ministerial looking personage, but the chaplain refused to answer any questions, and would not give his companion's name. The priests from the village have not come up, and up to 1:30 no more witnesses arrived. Deputy Warden Connaughton appeared at the door directly after, but the guards refused to allow the reporters to approach, and he would not come out to talk. A diagram was sent in, and he was asked if the cells had been properly located. He admitted that there had been some changes.

NEW YORK, July 6.—It is rumored that Wood's sentence has been commuted. R. J. Haire, attorney for Wood, says he has a representative at Sing Sing who will possibly surprise the officials. Mr. Haire would not say that he had got a stay for Wood, but added that he would speak on the subject later in the day.

SHOOTING AFFRAY.

Two Men Mortally Wounded in Martin County, Ind.

WASHINGTON, Ind., July 6.—Meagre reports have been received here of a terrible shooting affray Saturday at Indian Springs, Martin county, twenty-five miles north-east of this city. Farmer Huff quarreled with John Armstrong and another man, all three using revolvers. Armstrong was shot in the head and the unknown man in the bowels. Both are mortally wounded. Huff was slightly wounded, and he fled to escape arrest. Huff is one of the wealthiest men in the county. Armstrong's sister joined in the affray and knocked down several bystanders with a barrel stave.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

But Only Succeeded in Making Himself Very Sick.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 6.—Louis Bulling, the condemned wife murderer, who escaped from jail three months ago and was captured last week in Chicago, attempted suicide Saturday night by taking morphine. He is addicted to the use of the drug, and had managed to conceal a considerable quantity about his person. This dose, however, was not sufficient to cause death, although he was very low for several hours.

AN OCEAN HORROR.

A Large Steamer, With Her Crew, Goes to the Bottom of the Sea.

A FRIGHTFUL CYCLONE!

Sweeps Through Louisiana, Leaving a Wide Swath of Destitution and Misery--Thirty Killed.

NEW ORLEANS, La., July 6.—A cyclone at Baton Rouge this morning destroyed several houses. Many people were hurt. The penitentiary walls were blown down and many convicts are reported killed. The steamboat Smoky City was blown to pieces, there being nothing left of her but the hull. Several of the crew were badly injured.

Eight dead and twenty-four wounded have been taken from the ruins at the penitentiary. Two squares in the east side of Baton Rogue were destroyed. The fatalities are variously estimated at from thirty to forty.

A BRUTAL MOTHER.

Aided by Her Sons, Beats Her Daughter to Death.

WHITE EARTH, Minn., July 6.—Last week, Christine, the eighteen-year old daughter of Peter Teuscho, living six miles south of the agency, attended a dance against the wishes of her mother and brothers. When she returned her mother tried to kill her with a knife, but was prevented by the father, whereupon the old woman got a club and beat her senseless, and Joe, the brother, belabored her with a chair, and Antoine, another brother, struck her with a goad stick, cutting a frightful gash in the cheek. He then fell upon her and chewed both her arms until the blood ran in streams. The poor girl, then in a semi conscious condition, crawled out of doors and then into the brush, since which time she has not been seen, although the neighbors are searching for her remains, as she is supposed to be dead. The trio will be placed under arrest, and there are fears of lynching.

IN FILTH AND RAGS

A Miserly Millionaire Passes to the Great Unknown.

SAN JOSE, Cal., July 6.—Prof. Herman Kottinger, who up to twenty years ago was the leading physician on the coast, and well known as a writer of prose, died yesterday in a squalid hut on Calway street. He was worth hundreds of thousands of dollars, acquired by a life-time of misery and frugality. But one child, William Kottinger, was present at the death. When the old man, in his death throes, raised himself in bed, the son rushed to his side. His father, mistaking the act, with a frenzied yell, waved him back, and clutching at the bed clothes, pulled them back, disclosing to view a quantity of gold coin. He made a grab at it with both hands, and with the bright pieces in his fingers, fell back with a gasp and expired. Professor Kottinger was once a doctor in Heidelburg university, and was ninety years old. He was so wasted by hunger and want that his body weighed less than forty pounds, and was in a disgusting condition.

FATALLY INJURED.

A Female Balloonist Drops 1,200 Feet With the Above Result.

BOSTON, July 6.—On Saturday last Mrs. Jennie C. Crocket, aged thirty-four, of Boston, a professional balloonist under the name of Nellie Wheeler, made an ascension from the grounds of the Waverly Land company as a means of advertising a land sale. At a height of 1,200 feet she grasped her parachute and descended. When about thirty feet from the ground she became frightened at the prospect of landing in a greenhouse, and letting go of the handle, fell on her back, breaking her spine. She cannot survive. Mrs. Wheeler had made many successful ascensions. She is the mother of a boy of twelve. Her husband lives in Providence, R. I.

Thomas Hart, aged twenty one, was killed, and Professor Dunn, Thos. Hill and John O'Keefe, were seriously, though not fatally hurt. The rest of the passengers were either badly shaken up by the collision or slightly bruised by jumping from the stage.

KILLED TWO MEN!

Explosion in a Powder Mill Near Scranton, Pa.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 6.—The press mill of the Moosic Powder company, at Jermina, exploded at 6 o'clock this morning with a terrific shock, instantly killing John Lutey and Philip Fordkot, who were the only workmen in the place at the time. The mill was shattered into fragments.

Getting Ready for the World's Fair.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The Panama Star and Herald, of June 23, says: "The Jamaica press is taking hold with vigor the question of securing for Jamaica a becoming representation at the Columbian world's fair. The legislature was almost unanimous in its opinion that the appropriation for the representation of the colony should be increased from 2,000 to 10,000 pounds.

HONORING HAMLIN.

Maine Ministers Eulogize the Late Ex-Vice President--Letter of Condolence.

BANGOR, Maine, July 6.—The death of Vice President Hamlin has caused a general feeling of sorrow here, and in all churches yesterday tributes were paid to the dead statesman. At the city hall today a meeting will be held, at which the citizens will take action on Mr. Hamlin's death. The arrangements for the funeral will not be made until the arrival of Mr. Hamlin's youngest son, Frank, who is living in Chicago. The bereaved family have received many expressions of sympathy.

GOVERNOR BURLEIGH'S LETTER.

AUGUSTA, Me., July 6.—The following message of condolence has been sent by Governor Burleigh to Mrs. Hannibal Hamlin, at Bangor: "Accept my profound sympathy in your sad bereavement. The death of Mr. Hamlin is a great loss, not only to Maine, but to the whole nation. His memory will ever be fresh in the hearts of the American people and the record of his brilliant career as a statesman will live in the history of our country side by side with the immortal Lincoln, with whom he was associated in the darkest and most trying hour of national life. Sincerely yours, (signed) Edwin C. Burleigh."

A REVOLUTIONARY MOVE.

Preparations Being Made to Overthrow the Mexican Government.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—A packet of letters from a prominent official in the City of Mexico to a friend in this city became public property yesterday by accident. The letters bring the startling intelligence that Mexico is on the verge of another revolution and that already large quantities of arms and ammunition are secreted in the leading cities of the country. The revolutionists, who include the great mass of natives, are led by some of the ablest politicians of Mexico. They will wait until Diaz is crippled by his financial troubles with the Berlin house of Birchards and then make a bold concerted effort to seize the government.

GREATLY EXAGGERATED.

The Chilian Engagements Falsely Reported to Other Countries.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 6.—Her majesty's ship Warspite here yesterday from duty in Chilian waters and will go into dry dock for repairs. Her officers say the stories sent to North America of the bombardment of Iquique were greatly exaggerated. Two hundred was the number killed at the outside. No women or children were among the number, but two squares of the city were burned or destroyed. They also state that the Itata landed 2,000 cases of arms and was not under detention when the Warspite left. The officers declare that the reports of all the engagements have been greatly exaggerated.

"SHELL OUT!"

Is the Command of a Highwayman, and They Shelled.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—While Chas. F. Vail, who gained notoriety through the sensational death of his wife a year ago, was in company with Henry Fink last evening, on the outskirts of the city, they were held up by a man who, with pointed revolver, ordered them to throw up their hands and "shell out." Vail had but a small amount of money with him, but Finke produced and delivered about $75. After securing the money the robber drove hurriedly away.

HOMESEEKERS' CONVENTION.

Preparations Going On for a Booster Meeting to Arkansas City.

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., July 6.—The preparations are now complete for a gigantic convention of home seekers in this city next Saturday. The presence of over 40,000 cattle on the Cherokee strip has aroused the people, and they feel that if they are to get homes in that land they must not now. The Hon. B. Glover, Hon. Jerry Simpson, Senator Peffer, Hon. Charles Mansur, Hon. P. H. Elder, Hon. W. N. Springer, Chief Mayes, and other prominent men have promised to be present.

Turkey Will be Represented.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 6.—The world's fair committee has requested the Turkish minister at Washington to report on the best means to secure adequate representation for Turkey at the Chicago exposition.

LELAND LEAVES.

After Passing an Hour of the Aveline a Month--W. H. Leland Departs for Other Fields.

On June 1, a little more than a month ago, W. H. Leland took charge of the Aveline house, under a four years' lease. At an early hour Sunday morning Mr. Leland, accompanied by his sister and all their baggage, left the hotel, boarded a west-bound train and took a mysterious and decidedly unsatisfactory departure.

Mr. Leland came here a stranger only a short time before he assumed control of the hotel, and his negotiations were made with Mr. S. C. Lumbard, as agent for T. B. Shoaff, of New York City, who recently purchased the property of Miller & Moritz for an even $100,000. He represented that he had long hotel experience in the Herbert house at Canton, Ohio; the Gibson at Cincinnati; and the "Antlers" at Colorado Springs. He was regarded as a man with those qualifications that make a successful hotel host. He was promised that the hotel interior would be remodeled by putting in a new bar, changing the situation of a number of departments besides laying carpets and otherwise refitting, changes that were already begun under the direction of Mr. Leland when he took such an unceremonious departure.

Mr. Lumbard, representing Mr. Shoaff's interests, said in answer to a reporter's question:

"They have got all sorts of rumors flying about Leland's going away. I'll give you the straight of it. When Mr. Leland came here he closed a four years' lease of the Aveline. Since then I understood from him that he had another and what he considered a better opportunity to take a hotel somewhere else and asked to be released from his lease. It had been the intention of Mr. Shoaff to grant the request, as there would be nothing gained by having a law suit in event that Mr. Leland insisted upon going away."

"Do you know where Mr. Leland is going?" interposed the reporter.

"I do not. His address will be at the Palmer House, Chicago, today and tomorrow. After that I shouldn't wonder but what he will decide to locate in Salt Lake City."

"Did Mr. Leland leave any unpaid bills?"

"There was about $35 owing, but enough money was left to pay this."

Harry Steelsmith, whose home is in Hicksville, but who was employed by Mr. Leland as day clerk, was seen next by a reporter. The young man was consulted by the missing hotel keeper in nearly all of his business matters. He said: "No; I cannot say where Mr. Leland has gone. I know that he has left honorably, so far as paying bills is concerned, for I knew what the house owed."

"Did Mr. Leland instruct you to pay these bills?"

"Yes, he came back of the desk the evening before he went away. Said he was going to leave. There was then $127 due the house from boarders, which he left, and there was $45 in the drawer. Only $37 was standing against the house from the help."

"Did not Mr. Leland make a more full explanation?"

"No, he said he was going to leave for good and that he wanted everything squared up. He said he had been losing money, and thought he could do better somewhere else."

To Agent Hulburd, of the American express company, who is a boarder in the house, Mr. Leland had expressed himself as being dissatisfied with things here and intimated that he would leave.

The conditions under which the missing landlord took the house were that his rent was not to commence until August 1, and it would appear that if he did not want to do that which was honest he would have remained until nearly that time before leaving. He certainly committed a grave error in leaving as he did. As far as the Aveline is concerned Messrs. Miller and Moritz have again been placed in temporary charge until a satisfactory lease can be effected. The improvements will be pushed forward without delay and the house will, no doubt, pass into good hands.

HOUSE BURGLARIZED.

Boys Break Into and Rob the Residence of J. S. Batchelder.

The residence of Jesse S. Batchelder, at 20 West Lewis street, was entered yesterday by thieves during the absence of the family, and several articles of small value were taken. Mrs. Batchelder is in Chicago and the house during the day time is nearly deserted. Yesterday, at 2 o'clock, Mr. Batchelder and his boys set out for a walk, leaving the house securely locked. Upon their return, at 4 o'clock, they found a side window and the back door open and the contents of the bureau drawers and cupboards strewn promiscuously around the rooms. Cakes and pies were taken from their places and thrown upon the floor, and two money boxes, which belonged to the children, were lying in fragments on the back step, where they had been broken by the thieves. The money, about eighty cents, was missing. A large cake and a knife belonging to Mr. Batchelder were found last evening in the alley several blocks from the residence. The house was entered by a side window, not twenty feet from Lewis street, and within plain view of passers-by, yet no one saw the burglars at work. The burglary was undoubtedly the work of boys, whose object was to get money, as every drawer and other place where people are wont to place money, was disturbed. The clock was taken from its stand and the hands torn off. Mr. Batchelder is a pretty mad man and it would hardly be safe for the culprits to fall into his hands at present.

A FEW INJURED.

Several to Whom the Fourth Brought No Pleasure.

Saturday some persons who were celebrating the advent of the Fourth, fired a ball through the window of the residence of Mrs. John Schwobe, at 392 East Wayne street. The missile narrowly missed one of the occupants of the house.

Charles Gross, young son of Rev. C. Gross, while playing tug-of-war with a party of boys at the Emanuel picnic, was forced violently against a tree, resulting in serious injuries. The boy is now confined to the bed.

Charlie Greenick, of the south side, was badly burned in the face by the bursting of a toy cannon. Dr. Barnett picked the powder from the boy's face and rendered the necessary medical service.

John Porter, the real estate dealer, fell from a cherry tree injuring his spine. He will be kept from active duty for a short time but will suffer no serious consequences from the accident.

Martin Cleary assisted in shooting off the gatling gun. Both hands are seriously burned.

Joe Fox, living on Superior street, was burned by the explosion of a toy pistol.

John Helling suffers from a bullet wound inflicted in one leg. The wound is not dangerous.

Charles Aker, while discharging a brass cannon, narrowly escaped a horrible fate the other evening, by an explosion which shattered the piece. The fragments of the cannon are exhibited in the window of Goodfellow's saloon.

Charles Stein, a boy living on West Main street, had his face filled with powder by the bursting of a cannon. Dr. T. J. Dills attended.

Paul Corneille was injured in the face by the premature discharge of a cannon.

Deputy County Surveyor Frank Lordier had his hands burned.

DULL IN THE COURTS.

An Uninteresting Budget Begins the Week.

The 'squires reported no new business today.

The court house presented a dull and uninteresting budget today to the newspaper reporters.

When Marvin Kuhns, the desperado and convicted murderer, was in jail here he dictated a history of his life to W. E. McDermut, the stenographer, to be used in case he should be hung. Mr. McDermut now has it in his possession, but will not allow it to be used without Kuhns' permission.

The following real estate transfers have been issued: John W. Bruns to John H. Lots, west half lot 33 College addition, $1,360.

Rufus R. Brown and Anna Mary Ferokel, Geo. F. Dixon and Cornilda Millage, Willis H. McDowell and Elva Campbell, Frank A. Murphy and Anna T. Brendel have been licensed to wed by County Clerk Souder.

There were but five drunks arraigned before the mayor this morning as a result of the two days' harvest of the police. A man had to have a pretty big "jag" on him the Fourth of July before the police would arrest him, and as a consequence many an "ordinary drunk" escaped being landed in the station house. The five drunks mentioned above were by no means all the drunks that were seen on our streets Saturday, for there were scores of others, but the Fourth of July saved them, and the five who stood in police court this morning were the only ones who were compelled to feel the terrors of the law. Most of them were bums, and the mayor, after listening to their stories, sent them to jail.

AN UNCERTAIN SUSPENSE.

The Bright Prospects of Taylor University Go Glimmering--What Will the Future Be?

A prosperous future for Taylor university was town talk up to a short time ago. Unhappily these prospects have disappeared into thin air, and it looks as though the meeting of the board of trustees called for next Thursday evening will result in a reorganization of the board. What the future of the institution will be may not be decided for some time to come, but from the divided ideas of the board the best opinion that can be obtained is that if the sum of $25,000 can be raised in some way the institution will go ahead under its charter. One of the trustees expressed himself of the opinion that a new board of trustees would be the outcome of the failure to secure the Tabor tract. Had that land been procured at $50,000, as first expected, Judge McPheeters, of New York, agreed to furnish $10,000 if the sum of $10,000 was raised in some other way. But Mr. Tabor raised the price of his land to $75,000 and thus killed this and prevented the project for increasing the scope of the institution.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS.

Two Sudden and Unexpected Deaths--Mrs. Ramsey's Demise.

Mary M. Ramsay, aged fifty two years, nine months and six days, died of cancer of the womb last night. The deceased was born in Maryland. She was an old resident. The funeral will be announced hereafter.

Flossy, the infant daughter of David Corbin, of 383 Hanna street, died suddenly Saturday morning of cholera infantum. The remains were shipped to Rome City for interment.

Saturday the two-year old son of Charles F. W. Thieme, of 17 West Main street, was enjoying the Fourth with his little playmates. At 9 o'clock he was seized with a severe pain in his head, and before physicians arrived he was unconscious. The little fellow lingered between life and death till 6 o'clock Saturday evening, when he expired. Death is supposed to have been caused by brain trouble. The funeral took place from the residence and St. John's church this afternoon, Rev. Donnacker officiating.

BUCKEYES WIN YESTERDAY,

But We are After Their Wool Today --Other Games.

Still on the second limb sits the Midgets and today's game will decide whether they will tarry longer there or come fluttering down the grade. The game at Dayton resulted in a score of 8 to 1 in the Buckeye's favor. Now we did hope to see Capt. Hocker fall up and slay those "Buckeyes," but our hopes were in vain. Grand Rapids and Dayton are crowding us rather too close now, and from the top roost the "Goslings" look down and grin at our Midgets. There will be but two more games away from home when the club will return and all hope that, aided by the knowledge that "a rooster fights best on his own barnyard," all will be able to tear down the lofty aspirations of all visiting clubs. The Grand Rapids papers say that Boone, the new pitcher, is weak, and proved an easy mark for their sluggers. Bowers won the morning game, and with Hecker's aid, would have won the afternoon game, but rank errors came in too thick, and the game dropped to the home team by a score of 9 to 8. Following in the result of yesterday's games:

Fort Wayne, 1; Dayton, 8.

OTHER GAMES.

The games on the Fourth resulted as follows:

Morning—Grand Rapids, 2; Fort Wayne, 3. Terre Haute, 8; Peoria, 11. Evansville, 9, Dayton, 2.

Afternoon—Grand Rapids, 9; Fort Wayne, 8. Terre Haute, 3; Peoria, 9. Evansville, 10; Dayton, 2.

TRAGEDY AT MONTPELIER.

A Drunken Row Ends in the Murder of John Lanning.

A bloody fight, which resulted in the death of one man, occurred near Montpelier, a small station on the Muncie road, Saturday night. Cash Herron and John Lanning, who were intoxicated, got into a quarrel, when the former stabbed the latter in the neck, killing him instantly. Herron escaped, but officers are after him and he will probably be captured.

Pleas From His Creditors.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 6.—O. H. Burton, secretary of the Burton and Corry Odor Vinegar company, has fled and a letter from him at Philadelphia has been received stating for years he has been borrowing small amounts and now owes over $30,000. His biggest victim is his aged father, whom he pledged out of $15,000. It is thought Burton's liabilities may be $50,000.

"Twas a sort of "quiet" Fourth.

THE American Eagle has had her scream for this year.

THE dog days are now with us. They continue until August 11.

AUBURN is mixed with river water at South Bend, and the city condemns its waterworks.

THE town hall tower of New Haven was struck by lightning during a storm, but the building was saved from destruction by the villagers.

A queer story that excited all Denver was run out by a newspaper reporter and found to have its foundation in the barking of a dog at the moon.

THE Evansville Courier celebrated the opening of the tri state races in that city by issuing a sixteen page edition, printed in red, white and blue.

MARVIN KUHNS, the noted desperado, received the punishment he deserved. He is a bold, bad man and had he been released would have continued his criminal career. The penitentiary is the best place for such men.

THE Michigan City mayor forbade the appearance of refreshment stands on the streets on the Fourth of July, claiming that the merchants subscribed the money with which to "jollify" the Fourth, and they were entitled to all patronage to be reaped thereby.

THERE were many flag staffs in the city from which the American flag did not float on Saturday. On occasions of this kind, and particularly on the birthday of our nation, every banner ought to have floated to the breeze. American citizens ought never forget our nation's natal day.

THE execution of the laws in this city Saturday was a farce. Drunkenness ran riot on our streets, and but few arrests were made. Although the Fourth of July is a day for noise and rejoicing, there is no excuse for giving open license for crime. Liberty is the birthright of every American citizen, but when the laws are openly violated as they were last Saturday, it is going too far—it becomes lawlessness.

LAST Saturday, besides being the anniversary of the nation's natal day, was also the sixty-fifth anniversary of the death of the two presidents who were most instrumental in the preparation and passage of the Declaration of Independence; the sixtieth anniversary of the death of the fourth president, and the twenty-eighth anniversary of the retreat from Gettysburg; the taking of Vicksburg and the surrender of Island No. 10, three events that practically broke the back of the rebellion.

THE Bangs sisters, the Chicago spiritualists who are well known in this city, have been so completely exposed at one of their seances, lately held in Chicago, that they will probably never attempt to humbug the people again. Her ghosts proved to be human beings and at her seances a prominent Chicago physician caught hold of the apparation until the lights were turned on, and the ghost proved to be one of the Bangs sisters. Some of the Chicago papers devoted several columns to exposing their seances.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat sent out a corps of twenty-five reporters to call upon the leading men of New York city and ask them to name the persons who held the office of President of the United States in 1800, 1810, 1820, 1825, 1830, 1835, 1845, 1850, 1855. Bankers, brokers, lawyers, stock exchange men, railroad presidents and politicians were interviewed, and not one was able to fit the presidents correctly up to date. Had the reporters of the Globe-Democrat interviewed an equal number of Fort Wayne school boys, over fourteen years of age, they would have found nine-tenths of them would have answered the questions properly.

THE CHARLESTOWN HORROR.

Holocausts, horrors of the rail and calastrophes on the water seem to be epidemic just now. Our telegraph columns told on Friday of the dreadful accident at Ravenna by which nineteen lives were lost. Saturday another horror was added to the list. It occurred on the Wannatah and Michigan railroad, eight miles from Charlestown, West Virginia. Two of the cars of an excursion train ran off the track on a high trestle, and toppling over, crashed to the ground below. Fourteen persons were killed and a score or more injured, some of them fatally.

Up to the occurrence of these two horrors, there have been so far this year but three serious railway disasters—the tunnel collision in New York, in February, by which six were killed and three injured; a derailment on the Panhandle road in the same month, when five were killed and thirty-three injured, and a collision on the Lake Shore road, near Norwalk, Ohio, in April, by which eight were killed and three injured.

DEATH OF HANNIBAL HAMLIN.

The death of Hannibal Hamlin, which occurred at Bangor, Me., on Saturday evening, removes one of the most notable men of this century. Back in the forties he was a prominent member of the Maine legislature. His congressional career began in 1843, and in 1848 he was elected senator. His senatorial career was interrupted by a term as governor of Maine. In 1860 he was chosen vice president, with Abraham Lincoln, and at the end of the four years was appointed collector of customs at Boston. From this position he returned to the senate, serving until 1881. After this he was minister to Spain. For over fifty years he held offices of honor and trust. He was born at Paris, Me., August 27, 1809. Although Mr. Hamlin had been failing in health for a year past, his death was sudden and unexpected. He was down town in the afternoon and went to the Terrantine club rooms, where he was playing pedro, when his head fell forward on his chest. A gentleman remarked: "The senator seems to feel badly." Mr. Hamlin said: "I do." The men gathered around him and he was taken to a lounge. Dr. Robinson, who was in the next room, attended him, and afterward Drs. Mason and Phillips were called. No pulse was visible for an hour, and it was thought they could not bring him out. Finally he revived somewhat and managed to articulate freely. The doctors worked over him faithfully, and his family was sent for. Soon Mrs. Hamlin, Gen. Charles Hamlin, his son, and his wife, and other members were at his side. All was done for him in human power, but failed, and he passed away peacefully at 8:15 p. m. He leaves a widow and two sons—Gen. Charles Hamlin, a lawyer of Ellsworth, and Frank Hamlin, now living in Chicago.

MUST GO TO PRISON.

Marvin Kuhns, the Murderer of Campeau, Will Get a Life Sentence.

The verdict of the jury in the Kuhns murder case, which has been on trial at Tiffin, Ohio, for the last two weeks, is murder in the second degree. The jury retired at 6 o'clock Friday evening, and a little after midnight had agreed upon a verdict. It was not announced until court convened in the morning. The SENTINEL'S Tiffin correspondent telegraphed the verdict to this paper, and being placed on our bulletin board, was read by thousands on the Fourth of July. The demeanor of the murderer when the verdict was announced is told in the following telegram from Tiffin:

Within a minute after the doors of the court room were thrown open Saturday morning every seat and every inch of standing room was occupied. When the prisoner was brought in it was apparent that he was making an heroic effort to maintain his wonted composure, although his face was deadly pale and he seemed to walk with an unsteady step. The first intimation Kuhns received of the nature of the verdict was conveyed to him by the action of the sheriff in refusing to remove his shackles as has previously been done. Kuhns turned upon the sheriff a look of appealing inquiry that was almost pathetic in its intensity and sank back in his seat with an air of complete dispair. A moment after the jury filed slowly past him on their way to their seats, but the prisoner never looked up, being apparently satisfied that he had nothing to hope for. When Clerk Ullrich, in a deliberate and sonorous voice that penetrated every part of the court room, read the verdict finding Marvin Kuhns guilty of murder in the second degree the face of the prisoner became a study. His pale cheeks flushed perceptibly, and there gathered about the lines of his mouth an ashy paleness that reflected the feelings within which he labored so hard to conceal. Not a word did he say, but quietly accompanied the officers back to jail. An hour afterward your correspondent called upon him, and was startled by the change in his aspect. Marvin Kuhns, the desperado who had for years terrorized two states, and fought like a tigar to regain his liberty, receiving seven bullets in quick succession with the indifference of a stoic, was in tears. He lay upon the cot in his cell, and for hours sobbed like a child. He was unwilling to talk beyond saying that he had no hope for the future, and that the end which had at last come he might have anticipated for years. The usual motion for a new trial was made, and will be argued on Saturday next. It will undoubtedly be overruled and sentence imposed without delay. The punishment in Ohio for murder in the second degree is imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.

The declining powers of old age may be wonderfully recuperated and sustained by the daily use of Hood's Sarsaparilla.

FOURTH OF JULY ECHOES.

How the Day Was Spent in This City—Pirates and Celebrations.

Had it not been for the boom of the fire cracker and the shooting of pistol, gun and cannon last Saturday, it could be said that America's natal day in this city passed off in a very quiet manner. The crowds that were expected in the city failed to materialize, and but little of interest occurred in the city. Picnics were held at various places, and our reporters give brief mention of them below.

THE PICNICS.

The Emanuel Lutheran church had a picnic at the High Banks which attracted a large number of the congregation and school children. The affair was in all respects a success. Games, refreshments and patriotic music made the day pass merrily.

The Fourth was celebrated in a patriotic way at Monroeville. Interesting exercises were held at the grove near town and the independance day oration was delivered by E. V. Emerick, of this city. In the evening there were grand fireworks.

The members and Sunday school of the St. Paul M. E. church had a delightful picnic at Vordermark's grove.

The picnic of Zion's Lutheran church was held on the grounds near the church. The children had a happy time.

The St. Paul's Lutheran congregation had a quiet, though enjoyable day, at the Concordia college campus.

Grace Reformed church did not have a celebration as stated in a city paper.

AT CENTLIVRE'S

The celebration given under the auspices of the Fort Wayne Amusement company at Centlivre's, attracted a large crowd in the afternoon. In the evening the balloon ascension by Aeronaut Baldwin was a success. The parachute descended near the Lakeside, landing the daring occupant safely. The races were won as follows: Three minute mixed race won by Jenny Mac, a bay mare, pacer, owned by Oak Lawn farm, Jack Hooper, driver, first money; Lizzie Wilkes, owned by E. M. Powers, driven by Frank VanAlstine, second money; Kaiser Beer, owned by the Centlivre's, driven by Frank Bogash, third money.

The second race, 2:40 trot, resulted as follows: Huzel Wilkes, entered by H. Latham and driven by John Clark, first money; Harry A., owned by Chas. McDougal, second money.

The third, a colt race, for two year-old trotters, resulted as follows: Kaiser Wilkes, entered by Centlivre Bros., first money; Paul Wilkes, entered by Emmett Powers, second money; Deronda, entered by W. S. Bash, third money; Begonia, entered by Oak Lawn farm, fourth money.

The bicycle races resulted as follows: Two-mile race, entered by Wm. McClellan, James M. Griffith and A. J. McOscar won in the order named.

In the three-mile race McClellan and Griffith entered. Won by McClellan.

AT THE FEEBLE MINDED.

To the unfortunates at the institute for feeble minded it was a red letter day of enjoyment. In the morning the inmates, numbering over 400, were marched to a neighboring grove, and during all the hours of the day the woods rang with shouts of joy which seemed to know no bounds. In the evening the children, with those of the Reformed Orphans' home, who had come by invitation, witnessed a grand display of fire works at the grounds of the institute. Superintendent Blake and his able corps of attendants furnished the children with a grand and glorious celebration, from which must surely come beneficial results to the ones under their charge. Such passing pleasures as these make the little ones content with their surroundings and exercise a power of good influence over their unfortunate condition.

THE NEW ST. PATRICKS.

The Church Approaching Completion—Old Site to be Sold.

The pastor and people of the new St. Patricks are rejoicing in anticipation of soon occupying their new church and school. Both edifices are rapidly approaching completion. It will be remembered that property for church and schools was bought on Fairfield avenue, but later on the present site on Harrison street was secured, because it is more centrally located for the parishioners. As soon as the new school is completed, the Fairfield avenue property goes into market, and, by the way, this will be an excellent opportunity for anybody desirous of making a good investment. The amount realized will be donated to St. Patrick's church to help the building fund. Bishop Dwenger has the sale of the property, and will readily give any information concerning it that may be desired.

The thirteenth tournament of the Indiana State Chess association, which was in progress at Anderson during the past week, closed Friday night. Anderson secured two prizes, Otto C. Ballard winning the major contest and the state championship, and J. F. McClure the first place in the minor class or second for all. Mr. Ballard is only twenty two years old, and the youngest man that ever won the championship of the state. He won six out of eight games. C. O. Jackson, of Elwood, ranked second, and William Lee, of Elwood, third. Warwick H. Ripley, who won the championship at the winter meeting, was badly defeated. Although he will represent the state at the national contest at Lexington in August he really ranks fourth among the players who are members of the state association.

Timely Advice.

Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a reliable remedy for bowel complaints. It is almost certain to be needed, and no family can afford to be without it. It costs but a trifle and may be the means of saving much suffering, if not life. There are many different remedies in use, but Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is undoubtedly the best. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by druggists.

Don't forget the date, July 9, for the Dayton Excursion—$2 50 round trip. Train leaves at 5:50 a. m. via G. R. and I. R. R. 6-3t

FORTUNE SMILES ON HIM,

And George Stevens Takes Another Step Forward—Matters of Interest to Railroad and Shop Men.

One of the rising men of the day is George Stevens, formerly of this city. Last Friday he was appointed to the responsible position of general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. It was a deserved promotion, and is only a step in the line of promotion which will eventually place Mr. Stevens in the foremost ranks of the railway men of the country. Eight years ago Mr. Stevens lived in this city, being then the chief train dispatcher of this division of the Wabash road. He is a quiet, unassuming man, with a gentlemanly bearing which creates friends wherever he goes. Nearly every railroad man in Fort Wayne knows him and is his friend. All were rejoiced to hear of his promotion and none more so than THE SENTINEL.

Mr. Stevens was born at Utica, Ohio, June 29, 1851, and entered railroad life as a messenger boy in the telegraph office of the Baltimore and Ohio road, in his native town, February 1, 1864. The following year he was promoted to agent's clerk and telegraph operator for the same road, which position he filled until May, 1870. Then he was appointed agent and telegraph operator on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis railway, and shortly afterwards was promoted to train dispatcher. September 1, 1878, he became an employe of the Wabash company, serving in the capacity of train dispatcher for ten years, during which time he resided in this city. July 1, 1888, Mr. Stevens was appointed superintendent of the eastern division of the Wabash, with headquarters at Peru, a position he held a few years. He left the Wabash company to take the position of general superintendent and subsequently the general management of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. When Mr. Stevens left the Wabash road to take the position of superintendent of the Chesapeake and Ohio, he did not forget his old friends. Wherever desirable places were opened he tendered the positions to them, and in this way Mr. Stevens soon surrounded himself with the men who served under him on the Wabash road. Mr. Stevens was a poor boy, with no one to influence or aid his promotions, and he is indebted to no one for his present position. He started out in life with a determination to be honest and faithful in all his dealings and steadily pursued this course. THE SENTINEL congratulates him upon his wonderful success.

O. Lehr has returned from a tour of the southwest and this morning reported for duty. He is an engineer on the Pittsburg.

Philip Donahue, son of Engineer Donahue, left today for Kalamazoo, Mich., where he will remain during the school vacation.

The Lake Erie and Western earned in the last week in June $76,131.46; increase over the corresponding week of 1890, $15,932.42.

Seven new men were given work in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop this morning. They are M. Vizzard, G. Rockhall, J. Ahern, L. Goshway, Chri. Ryan, John Spanley and Isaiah Houser. This department is now running to its full capacity. Work is so plentiful that the men will be asked to work thirteen hours a day.

Engineer W. N. Barden, of the Pittsburg, has reported for duty after a few days' recreation.

On account of sickness in his family Engineer C. Durnell, of the Pittsburg, is taking a lay off.

W. P. Marks, of the night force in the Pittsburg roundhouse, is enjoying a few days' vacation.

Pittsburg Engineers J. Worman and B. F. Campbell have returned to their engines after a brief lay off.

Engineer S. P. Craig, of the Pittsburg, and Fireman G. E. Wagner, of the Grand Rapids, are on the sick list.

Machinist F. Schram, of the Pittsburg roundhouse, has recovered from a week's illness and went to work this morning.

Charlie Muehllenbiack has returned from a brief outing at Rome City. He is employed in the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson.

Engineer J. Abercrombie, of the Grand Rapids, has returned from Kalamazoo, where he was the guest of his parents a few days.

Engineer W. C. Kelkor, of the Grand Rapids, is taking a vacation. G. Anderson, engineer on the Pittsburg, is also off on a pleasure trip.

Pittsburg Fireman C. Welsh, F. Simonton, M. H. Durnell and J. H. Knight, who were off duty for a few days, have returned to work.

Peter Hartnott, clerk for Captain Harrison in the Pittsburg car shops, is recovering from a sickness and hopes to be able to resume work tomorrow.

W. B. Leeds, superintendent of the Richmond division of the Pennsylvania lines, has appointed A. R. Sligar freight and ticket agent at New Castle, Ind.

Foreman James Hewes, of the Pittsburg boiler shop, is entertaining his son-in-law, Ed. Lampart, who is now a train dispatcher on one of the roads entering Chicago.

Freight business on the Wabash is improving wonderfully and the indications are that the July earnings will far surpass any previous earnings in the history of the line.

J. E. Hull, traveling passenger agent of the Memphis, at Little Rock, has resigned his position and will return to the Lake Shore. His successor has not been named as yet.

Joseph Singmaster, the coppersmith at the Pittsburg shops, came home from Chicago last evening. Mrs. Singmaster, who had been very ill for three months, is again able to be out.

Mike Craig and Martin Crawford are again at work in the Pittsburg blacksmith shop. The former was at Chicago and the latter at Philadelphia, where he took part in a bicycle parade.

The Central States Dispatch will establish an office in Kansas City, August 1. The contracting agent of the Big Four at Chicago will probably be appointed agent at Kansas City.

A wild engine without engineer or fireman, ran away on the Lake Erie and Western at Lima, Ohio, recently, went fifteen miles and stopped because its steam gave out. No damage.

Pan Handle passenger men are being called upon to pass the color-blind examination. The work of examining the station agents, operators and section foremen will be commenced on the 18th inst.

George Gordon, the Pittsburg baggage master, has a curiosity in his garden which attracts considerable attention from passers-by. It is an apple tree full of half grown fruit and cut in full bloom.

The Louisville, New Albany and Chicago road has carried more live stock north the last three months than in any two years in its history, and in the last thirty days 200 car loads of fruit jars have been shipped north from the De Pauw glass works at New Albany.

The following men are absent from duty at the Pittsburg car shop today: J. Henry, J. H. Lahmeyer, J. Grad, A. J. Huber, W. Matsch, W. Kanning, J. Heidel, O. Stahl, J. Schrauser, J. Kaiser and F. Thompson. Some are sick, while others are taking a vacation.

At Rutland, a small station on the Nickel Plate, Saturday Brakeman Oliver White got his left foot badly mangled. While engaged in coupling cars he fell and the trucks passed over his foot, mashing it in a frightful manner. Dr. Dinnen, who dressed the wound, says that a putation will be necessary. White, who lives on West Main street, was brought to the city Saturday.

A dispatch from Springfield, Ill., says that Milton Knight, of St. Louis, freight traffic agent of the Wabash railroad, who was indicted in the United States court for violating the inter state commerce law, voluntarily came to Springfield and gave bond for his appearance in the sum of $2,500. The Wabash will make a determined fight, holding that it has the right to pay commissions for securing business.

Indications now are that every ticket agent in the Central Traffic territory will, within the next two months, be receiving commissions with as much freedom as they did before any attempt was made to break up the practice. The traveling passenger agents will load themselves up with vouchers, and the ticket agents will again be more important than the presidents or their associations.

An order of the sale of the Cincinnati, Jackson and Mackinaw road, which terminates at West Alexandria, Preble county, will be issued by the court at Richmond July 5, if the road is not redeemed, as that date marks the expiration of the thirty days allowed for redemption. Without question the property will fall into the hands of the same syndicate which has the control of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton.

By the promotion of Mr. Stevens to general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, Will LaBonta was also promoted and is now chief clerk to the general manager, with a handsome salary. Mr. LaBonta is pretty well known in this city, having married a few years ago Miss Ella Ashley.

The picnic and fire display at Eagle Lake on the Fourth was a very brilliant affair and passed off with no incidents or accidents to mar the pleasure of the occasion. The Cincinnati, Wabash and Michigan road took two large excursion parties to the lake, and the Pittsburg had an excursion from every thirty minutes. Road Foreman A. H. Polhamus aided in handling the crowds on the excursion trains between Warsaw and Eagle Lake.

Peter Temple is a benedict now. He was married on the Fourth to one of Garrett City's most charming young ladies. The wedding was a quiet one, only a few friends and relatives of the bride and groom being present. Charley Miller, of the Olds Wagon works, acted as "best man" to the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Temple will be "at home" to friends after tomorrow on South Hanna street. The groom is the popular wagon maker in the Olds works.

THE BAY VIEW SEASON.

An Excellent Programme Arranged for this Year—Russell Conwell and Dr. Buckley Engaged.

The Assembly Herald is out with very attractive announcements for Bay View Assembly, which commences on the 24th of this month. Bay View, Michigan, is by far the most delightful resort in this country. This is the opinion of many Fort Wayne people. If nature has left anything out, the Assembly and University have more than made it up. Every year the attractions improve. In the University, opening July 14, besides school in science, literature and language, this year a famous teacher from Sweden will instruct in Sloyd, a new hand craft work in wood, and the inter-national Young Woman's Christian Association opens a Bible school. With thirty five instructors and specialists as Miss Lockwood in primary work, Dr. Terry in the Bible, Prof. Pease, Case and Snyler in Music, Mills and Bond in Art, and Miss Biggert in Elocution, the University cannot help but rank in a high scale. The Assembly is the great attraction and will continue for three weeks and three or four times a day will be heard such illustrious people as Dr. J. M. Buckley, Col. Russell A. Conwell, Lydia Mountford, Swedish Quartett, Fisk Jubilee Singers, celebrated soloists and entertainers. No wonder everybody wants to visit such a place. Round trip tickets from Fort Wayne are only $13.30. It don't take a fortune to go to Bay View since living expenses are only $5 to $7 per week. Drop a card to J. M. Hall, Bay View, Mich., for the Assembly Herald, full of information about the resort.

The following frank statement from J. E. Hare, of Trenton, Texas, will be of interest to many of our citizens: "My little boy was very bad off for two months with diarrhœa. We used various medicines, also called in two Doctors, but nothing done him any good until we used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy, which gave immediate relief and soon cured him. I consider it the best medicine made and can conscientiously recommend it to all who need a diarrhœa or colic medicine." For sale by druggists.

THE VICE OF GAMBLING.

Pastor Northrup Preaches on the Theme—Means Long Talks.

Last night Rev. S. A. Northrup, who is delivering a series of discourses on the popular evils of the day, preached at the Baptist tabernacle on "Gambling." Every seat in the audience room and the gallery above was crowded. The sermon, although only a twenty-minute talk, was an interesting one. Gambling, he said, was one of the most ruinous vices of the day. It commences with card playing, and step by step the devotee is led on until he plays for gain. It becomes a passion, and unable to resist its fascinating influence, he goes down to ruin, and perhaps to death. The pastor spoke eloquently on various phases of his subject and closed with an earnest appeal to his hearers to shun all forms of gambling, and not indulge in card playing, which leads to this evil.

He then called on Mason Long, who was in the congregation, to say a few words, and the reformed gambler took the pulpit and made a most eloquent and interesting talk on the subject. After depicting the evil in its different phases and showing its ruinous results, he closed with a few words to the young ladies about running on the streets at night. Girls, he said, who persist in this habit are sure to come to ruin and will live to repent of their folly in tears. Parents should make their homes bright, cheerful and attractive and keep their boys and girls off the streets at night.

In Lotyarn, Conn., the other day, a boy discovered a woodchuck in a heap of leaves in an old tree and pulled him out. He was curled up like a "woolly bear," with both forepaws pressed closely over his eyes. When his paws were pulled off his eyes he did not open them, but yawned and gasped, as a heavy sleeper might be expected to do. The animal could not be aroused from his dormant condition until he had been in a warm room several hours.

ONE TON

—OF—

Corn Germ Feed Meal

IS WORTH

4 ½ TONS ½ OF ½ BRAN

For feeding purposes.

One ton of Germ Meal Costs $20

The Germ Meal is rich in fat, and milk producing qualities. Is it necessary to point out the moral?

This feed is made from the germ, the sweet milky part of the corn, it is steam dried and is very sweet and nutritious. It has not the heavy heating qualities of ordinary corn meal, which is so injurious to horses in hot weather.

For feeding purposes it is far superior to anything else in the market and it is cheap.

THE EARL CREMATORY.

A Noble Structure Recently Given to the City of Troy, N. Y.

The advocates of cremation, says the Chicago Evening Post, offer as their one great argument in its favor that it is beneficial to the general health of the people and that it is for the public good. Decaying bodies, they urge, are buried in churchyard and cemetery without proper care being taken to protect the living. The air we breathe, the water we drink, the food we eat, it is claimed, are all poisoned by the noxious gases arising from the burial places. Those who favor cremation point to it as the only remedy and declare that after a proper time the body should be reduced to ashes, thus removing all danger of infection or contagion. Fire, they say, is the great purifier, and their arguments are daily gaining friends for cremation.

THE EARL CREMATORY AT TROY, N. Y.

The first crematory erected in this country was the Le Moyne, a small one-story structure located at Washington, Pa., costing less than $1,500 and very defective. The latest addition to this line of buildings is "The Earl," which combines a chapel with a crematory. It is the munificent gift of William Earl to the city of Troy, N. Y., and is situated in the beautiful Oakwood cemetery. Gardiner Earl, the son, was the first Trojan cremated, which act was consummated at Buffalo, N. Y.

Mr. Earl, in speaking of the gift, says: "We have made provision for cremation for those who desire it. The system shall be as perfect as can be made. There is nothing about the process that anyone ought to object to. Cremation is the proper way of disposing of the remains of the dead."

The new system of cremation offers an inexpensive and yet perfectly natural way of preserving the ashes of loved ones, and yet satisfying the highest sense of duty and propriety. The idea of being able to place the sacred dust in an urn and keep it for all time as the mortal remains of one who was loved and cherished must commend itself as more poetical, more feeling, more in keeping with the highest love, than to bury in the ground the loved form and leave it to decay through the slow-spreading years until not a vestige of it remains.

MRS. LELAND STANFORD has decided to turn the Lathrop memorial in Albany over to the trustees of the local orphan asylum and endow it with $5,000 a year, so as to secure relief from personal attention to this charity which she founded in memory of her parents several years ago. New cares in connection with the Leland Stanford University will prevent her visiting Albany as frequently as hitherto.

If Marion Manola keeps on getting married and unmarried at the rate she has recently established, she will soon have to hire a private secretary and stenographer to keep track of what her name is.

What If the Czarowitz Had Been Killed in Japan?

His Death Would Have Caused Great Confusion in St. Petersburg—Some of the Skeletons in the Closet of the Romanoff Family.

The czarowitz has escaped that premature death which seems so mysteriously to overtake the oldest sons of successive reigns. The firstborn of Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria; of King Leopold of Belgium; of the late King William of Holland; of Napoleon III., of Napoleon I., of King Louis Philippe of France, and of Czar Alexander II.—have each of them passed away before their time.

Had the Japanese assailant of the czarowitz been permitted to accomplish his purpose, says Harper's Weekly, the most terrible confusion would have arisen at St. Petersburg in connection with matters relating to the succession to the throne, for the emperor's second son is dying of consumption—the result, it is said, of a blow in the chest received in jest from the czarowitz. Alexander III., it may be mentioned here, is stated to owe both his charming wife and his throne to a similar blow inflicted in play upon his older brother Nicolas, who died at Nice of consumption in 1865. The third and only remaining son of the emperor is the little Grand Duke Michel, a boy of twelve years of age, who, in the event of a demise of the crown, would require the guidance and guardianship of a regency until the expiration of his minority.

To whom would the regency belong? By right of primogeniture it should be vested in the hands of the czar's eldest brother, the Grand Duke Waldimir. But the latter is debarred by the statutes of the imperial house of Romanoff from holding any such office, as well as from succession to the throne in case of the death of his nephews. The cause for this disqualification is the Lutheran faith professed by his German wife—a woman of great beauty, strength of character and obstinacy. All efforts to induce her to join the orthodox church have proved fruitless, and not even the knowledge that her refusal to abandon the Lutheran rite would cut off both her husband and herself from the line of succession has been able to make her give way in the matter. The next in order of seniority of the emperor's brothers is the Grand Duke Alexis—a man of magnificent presence, but of weak character, who enjoys neither the consideration nor the respect of his countrymen, and who has been repeatedly disciplined by both the late and the reigning czar for the discreditable intrigues with which he has from time to time permitted his name to become connected.

THE CZAROWITZ OF RUSSIA.

In official circles in Russia, it is believed that Alexander III. has already designated his brother, the Grand Duke Sergius, as regent in the event of the minority of his successor. Sergius is renowned for his fanaticism, and for his aversion to everything foreign. He is the acknowledged leader of the ultra-orthodox and old Russian element, and enjoys more than any other member of the imperial family the confidence and affection of the autocrat. The latter has recently conferred upon him the most important office of the empire, namely, that of governor general of Moscow, where he is now acquiring an unenviable notoriety by the shocking brutality with which his expulsion of the Jewish population of the locality is being carried into effect.

It is unlikely, however, that Sergius would be permitted to assume the regency without serious opposition on the part of his two elder brothers, Waldimir and Alexis, around whom would rally the more liberal and progressive members of the government and of the population. Indeed, if the necessity for a regency were to occur (and in view of the constant danger of assassination to which the czar and the czarowitz are exposed, it may happen at any time), the world would probably be called upon to witness, if not a civil and fratricidal war, at any rate a repetition of the terrorism and bloodshed which marked in 1825 the accession to the throne of Emperor Nicolas in lieu of his elder brother, the Czarowitz Constantine.

REINDEER flesh, which is said to be tender, delicious, and nutritious, is regularly exported from the Arctic Zones to Hamburg, where it meets eager demand, at about 13 cents a pound.

AN old apple-woman known as "Kitty" has just died in London at the age of 101. She kept a little stand near St. James' Hall, where she often sold candy to Lord Nelson and apples to Pitt and Fox.

WHICH WON THE RACE?

In the 2-mile race on July 4, between a 54 inch Grand RAMBLER and a 54-inch Grand Cushioned-tired Columbia, (which should have been handicapped, as cushions -ired wheels always are) The Columbia simply wasn't in it. The big wheel in front was so far behind as to be lost sight of. "Out of Sight," you know.

Our rider in this race, we must admit, won first money, but as he was mounted on a Racer, grand for a racing course, the less we say of him the better. Tricks in all trades except the bicycle business, etc.

Then we might also mention that at the Galveston (Texas), meet, Americans captured the cream of the prizes, the RAMBLER taking the Half and One Mile Safety events, and the American Light Champion the One Mile Ordinary, while at Chicago, on the 28th, a cushioned-tired RAMBLER romped away with the Two-mile Handicap at the Second Regiment games—and both Pneumatic and Solids were there, too.

By the way, last Saturday I took another Bicycle, famous (?) for the big wheel in front, as part payment in trade for a RAMBLER, "with a small wheel in front," the rider changing his mount because the old mount was too rigid, so much so as to effect his spine; and, in consequence, I can still sell Columbia's very cheap.
